What's on for children around GOSH?

Introduction

Being in hospital needn't be boring.

If you and your child are able to get away from the ward, there are lots of things to do at GOSH and in the local area too.

Remember, we can't include everything, so if you want to find out about something else, call the London Tourist Information Centre on 020 7332 456.

If you do find something fun to do that we've missed out, please drop into the Pals office and let them know about it so we can include it in future editions.

Things to do in the hospital

The Centre

The Centre for is for patients of all ages, their brothers and sisters, and their parents. It is next door to the main schoolroom at GOSH (Southwood Building, Level 2). There's a bright play space for under fives and babies, a games, art and craft area; a sensory room for children with special needs; and an amazing 'den' equipped with games consoles and a wide range of games for all ages.

The Centre is open on weekday mornings from 10am to 1.10pm and afternoons from 2.10pm to 4.30pm (4pm on Wednesdays).

School

The hospital school caters for children aged between five and 19 years with priority for ward teaching given to recurrent or long-stay inpatients. You are encouraged to come to the school to work with others of your own age as part of a group. If this is not possible, a teacher will visit you on the ward. If you are likely to be in hospital for more than a few days, it would be very helpful if you could bring details of any schoolwork with you.

Play specialists

Children on each ward have access to a well-equipped play room as well as activities by their beds, provided by a Play Specialist or Play Worker.

Scouts

You don't have to be a scout at home to come along to 17th Holborn Scouts. We offer an evening away from the ward for both patients and other young family members aged over six. Each week we have a range of fun activities on a different theme, and give you the opportunity to make friends with other children from the hospital. See the Scouts' website at www.17thholborn.org.uk for more details.

Radio Lollipop

Radio Lollipop, our play based interactive radio service, is available on Monday and Wednesday evenings between 6.15pm and 8.15pm on channel 9 on ward televisions. During non-broadcast times, a 24/7-radio service is available. The service is provided by volunteers who also visit the wards during the broadcasts providing creative activities for patients and families. You can call the studio on extension 6784 to make music requests and take part in a variety of competitions.

Film shows

The first Monday of every month is film show night, when we show films before they come out on DVD. The film show is held either in the Lagoon restaurant at the back, or in Weston House Lecture Theatre, with the first film starting at 6.15pm. The second film is aimed at parents but if you're aged over 15 you can stay too. Details of which films are showing each month are posted around the hospital.

Go Create!

The GO Create! Arts & Humanities programme at GOSH is integral to the redevelopment programme, enhancing the hospital environment in a number of ways. The programme aims to reflect the diversity of patients, visitors and staff at the hospital and includes activities ranging from visual art to music to dance, appealing to a wide range of cultural backgrounds and age groups.

Coram's Fields

Coram's Fields is a unique seven acre playground and park for children living in or visiting London.

It is open access, provides a calm, safe and stimulating environment where children can play freely and enjoy a varied programme of activities.

No adult can enter Coram's Fields without a child and our friendly on-site staff ensure that everyone can enjoy their visit. The playground holds a full range of after school and holiday activities as well as a drop-in and events for the under-5s.

Coram's Fields is open every day except Christmas Day and Boxing Day from 9am to 7pm during the summer and from 9am to dusk in the winter.

Free entry but donations to the charitable foundation always appreciated

Guildford Street, London WC1N 1DN

Green spaces

Although GOSH is in central London, there are still plenty of green spaces near the hospital. For further details, Camden Council produces a guide to parks and open spaces within the borough, available at www.camden.gov.uk/ccm/navigation/leisure/outdoor-camden/parks-and-open-spaces. Some of the green spaces nearest GOSH are:

Alf Barrett Playground

A small playground with play equipment for younger children, including those with disabilities.

Bloomsbury Square Gardens

A typical London square surrounded by roads and buildings on all four sides, this has quiet seated areas with planted borders.

Brunswick Square Gardens

Next door to Corams Fields, this is a quiet green space with benches and trees.

Judd Street Open Space

On the way to Kings Cross station, this area contains children's swings and seated areas.

Queen Square Garden

A peaceful square at the end of Great Ormond Street, this has planted borders and mature trees, with small open spaces for picnics.

Red Lion Square Garden

A quiet open space near Holborn station, this has a small café serving drinks and snacks.

Russell Square Gardens

Between GOSH and the British Museum, this London square has a fountain at its centre and large open spaces, as well as a café.

British Museum

The British Museum holds in trust for the nation and the world a collection of art and antiquities from ancient and living cultures. Housed in one of Britain's architectural landmarks, the collection is one of the finest in existence, spanning two million years of human history.

The British Museum is open every day from 10am to 5.30pm – closed on New Year's Day, Good Friday, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day and Boxing Day

Free entry

Great Russell Street, London WC1B 3DG

Useful telephone numbers and websites

General information about London is available from Visit London's website at www.visitlondon.com/welcome.

The main tourist information centre for London is on Regent Street at Piccadilly Circus. It is open on Monday from 9.30am to 6.30pm, Tuesday to Friday from 9am to 6.30pm and Saturday to Sunday from 10am to 4pm. You can also telephone them on 08701 566 366.

Closer to the hospital and another source of valuable information is the Holborn Visitor Information Kiosk on Kingsway, outside Holborn tube station. The kiosk is open Monday to Friday between 8am and 6pm. It is closed at weekends. You can also talk to the Holborn Street Rangers who patrol the local area in distinctive orange jackets.

The Transport for London website contains a great deal of information about getting from A to B using their Journey Planner at journeyplanner.tfl.gov.uk. They also provide suggestions for leisure activities, such as walks at www.tfl.gov.uk/gettingaround/walking or boat trips up and down the Thames at www.tfl.gov.uk/assets/downloads/river-guide.pdf.
