ANDERSON, John	Honorary Consultant Oncologist	I lead a research group at UCL ICH developing novel immunotherapies for childhood cancer. I am honorary consultant oncologist at GOSH with responsibility for several clinical trials including a CAR T cell trial based on the technology developed at UCL. Autolus Autolus is a UCL spin out company with a vision to develop CAR T cell therapies for cancer, through R+D and the running of early phase clinical trials based at UCL and UCL hospitals. I was allocated founder shares at its inception based on my share in a patent held by myself and others for a chimeric antigen receptor (CAR) targeting neuroblastoma. This CAR is now being evaluated in a phase I study at GOSH sponsored by CRUK (1RG-CART), for which I am chief investigator. [Management Plan in place] TC Biopharm A patent (40% co-lead inventor) held through UCLB and based on work coming from my research group has recently been licensed from UCLB to TC-Biopharm, a company based in Glasgow. Standard UCLB terms are included in the licensing, with a proportion of future revenues coming to the inventors. TCB have asked me to be their medical director, paid on a consultancy basis, to oversee an initial clinical trial in adult acute myeloid leukaemia, and to develop other trials in paediatric cancer based at GOSH or other UK centres. [Management Plan in place]	Feb-18
ASHWORTH, Michael	Consultant, Histopathology	I pay my private earnings into a private company known as 'Repath' of which I am a director. The income is derived entirely from the International Private Patients Wing, which is managed by the NHS. The fees are for expert opinion. The Company is essentially a handling mechanism for the consultants' private fees. The accounts are audited and subjected to company tax. The fees are used to pay for expenses in the Histopathology Department, e.g. training fees for non-medical staff. The remainder is paid to the consultants as annual dividends. I declare these earnings in my own income tax return. This is a longstanding arrangement of which managers are aware, and it has been suggested as a model for others. However, it has come to my attention that a formal declaration should be made to the Trust, and this I now do.	Feb-17
BARNACLE, Alex	Consultant Paediatric Radiologist	I have practising privileges at the Portland Hospital for Women and Children. I undertake diagnostic imaging sessions at the Portland Hospital averaging 3 hours per fortnight, which is done in my own time.
